

Here Are the 5 Must-See Booths at Paris Photo This Year

November 7, 2018

We've highlighted five booths you need to see at this year's Paris Photo fair.

Steven Kasher's booth at Paris Photo is an ode to the little-known but well-respected feminist artist Joan Lyons—an artist who defied the conventions of 1950s art movements, which prized masculine energy over personal (and especially female) experience. Lyons employed all aspects of photo-making materials, evoking the realm of domesticity and using her own body as a medium for exploration.
